Warrumbungle Shire's Australia Day Ambassadors for 2023 announced

Australia Day Ambassadors to the Warrumbungle Shire for 2023 will be Ron Delezio and Bruno Efoti, who will appear at Australia Day events and activities across the local government area.

Australia Day activities focus on uniting the community and paying tribute to the Australian spirit. We're extremely grateful our Australia Day Ambassadors, Ron Delezio and Bruno Efoti who will be joining our communities to offer inspiration and share their optimistic messages and stories.

Ron Delezio is known for his work as a Co-Founder and Co-Director of Day of Difference Foundation, which has raised over $14 million that paid for urgently needed medical equipment and support for other families facing similar conditions in hospitals around Australia that the Delezio family faced when their daughter Sophie was involved in two separate catastrophic accidents. Ron Delezio is proud to be an Australia Day Ambassador and will be joining Binnaway, Baradine and Coonabarabran communities with their celebrations.

Bruno Efoti is Co-Founder of Tradies In Sight, a not-for-profit organisation designed to support tradesmen with mental health and wellbeing issues in the Dubbo community and the Central Western NSW region. Bruno is also proud to be an Australia Day Ambassador in 2023. Bruno Efoti will be joining the Mendooran, Dunedoo and Coolah communities for their celebrations.

Australia Day Ambassadors generously volunteer their time and share their story at hundreds of community events. Over 30 years, Ambassadors have inspired thousands of people in activities as diverse as the communities themselves, and 2023 will be no different.
